What's a Guarantee?

Our idea of a guarantee is that the manufacturer who gives one, which hasn't any tags and loopholes—believes in his product.

So much so that he stands ready to make good any loss suffered by the purchaser through defective material or workmanship.

It's mainly because of the guarantee that goes with them that we are selling and recommending Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes."

Of course, we know they give the cheapest mileage too—that they are dependable tires for any make of car, anywhere. But it's the guarantee that we talk about most. It's the right kind of claim, with the right kind of backing. It shifts off responsibility on to the manufacturer and he lives up to every letter of it. Come in and let us tell you about the guarantee that goes with

"The Store that Saves You Money"

Reply Is Received To Proposals Sent To Eamonn de Valera

Dublin.—The Dail Eireann "cabinet" has replied to the letter which Premier Lloyd George sent to Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, on August 13. It was in this letter that the British Premier informed Mr. de Valera that there could be no compromise on the question of the right of Ireland to secede and also attempted to make clear the conditions of the proposed peace settlement.

While the text of the republican letter will not be published until an agreed joint communiqué is issued, it is understood that it makes no mention of a republic, but enunciates the principle of independence and expresses aversion to a resumption of warfare. Thus, it is considered, there still is a wide opening for a continuance of peace negotiations, a fact which has caused widespread satisfaction and a general feeling of optimism.

An issue of the Irish Bulletin, official Dail Eireann organ, going into a detailed discussion of what it says the Government has denied Ireland, declares Mr. Lloyd George's offer "does not actually propose what it professes to propose; what it does actually propose no nation could adopt without dishonor."

Comparing the offer of the British Prime Minister with the forms of governments granted to Canada and South Africa, the Bulletin asserts that these dominions are allowed to compose their distinctive differences without interference from outside, and concludes:

"There could be free negotiations on many matters in the Premier's six conditions and amicable arrangements arrived at to the common interests of both countries. But the basic must be one of freedom."

These words are taken as indicating the intention of leaving room for detailed negotiations on almost every point of the peace proposals.

Say Germany Is Insulting Britain

G.W.V.A. Asking Government to Stop Influx of Books.

Ottawa.—That large quantities of German booklets, containing insulting references to Great Britain and the other allied nations, were being rushed into Canada, and that the practice must cease immediately, were the opinions expressed by high officials of the Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association. These booklets, it was alleged, were being received by persons in positions of authority and without the consent of the recipients. C. G. MacNeil, secretary of the Dominion Command, G. W. V.A., is taking the matter up with the government, and has forwarded a letter to the secretary of state asking for speedy action in terminating the influx of these pamphlets.

Airship Collapsed When Flying a Thousand Feet Over City of Hull.

Hull, England.—Seventeen officers and men of the United States Navy, and twenty-seven officers and men of the British Navy, met death in the collapse of the great dirigible ZR-2 over the city of Hull.

Every one of the United States men on board the ill-fated craft perished, as far as could be ascertained.

Only five of the 49 who were making the trip in the dirigible prior to the vessel being turned over to the United States Navy, are known to have been saved.

The United States officers who started the trip include Commander Louis H. Maxfield, Washington; Lieut.-Commander Emory Coil, Marietta, Ohio; Lieut. Henry W. Hoyt, Clearwater, Fla.; Lieut. Marcus E. Estesley, Washington; Lieut.-Commander Valentine N. Bieg, Bryan, Tex., and Lieut. Charles G. Little, Newburyport, Mass.

The British losses include the famous air veteran, Brig.-Gen. E. M. Matland, Lieut. A. H. Swann, Lieut. C. Little, Lieut. R. S. Montague, Flight Lieut. Thomas, and all the Railroad communication between this city and Shanghai has been interrupted. There has been widespread destruction of crops over the districts of Shantung, which during the last spring and summer have been suffering from famine.

Many Lives Lost In Malabar Riot

Anxiety Is Felt for Safety of English Residents

London.—More than one thousand lives, it is feared, have been lost in the rioting in the Malabar district of British India, says an Exchange Telegraph Company's despatch from Bombay. Anxiety is felt for the English women and children in the outlying districts. Several railway stations have been wrecked. Twenty men of the Leinster Regiment at Tirumangadi are reported to have been cut off.

It is also reported, adds the message, that the rioting natives are working their way from the interior to Calicut on the coast.

Canadians Wanted For National Fleet

Merchant Marine Company Anxious to Employ As Many As Possible

Montreal.—"We are anxious to get as many Canadians as possible to man the ships of the national fleet, instead of discriminating against them," stated R. B. Teakle of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Company, in reply to a statement to the effect that Canadians were being discriminated from employment on ships of this country. Mr. Teakle praised the Navy League of Canada for its great work in this respect.

As West Grows So Will East

Heavy Load of Taxation Carried By Small Population

Every new settler in the Canadian West means at least one new job for someone in the Canadian East. Those who fear that an immigration campaign that would bring in settlers might add to the unemployment in Eastern cities should bear this truth in mind. One in the West means—indeed, one in the East.

The present immigration policy tends to ADD TO RATHER THAN SUBTRACT FROM THE TOTAL OF THE UNEMPLOYED IN CANADA. At present a small Western population is bearing the whole cost of the railways, telegraphs, Government and other public services in the West. It is admittedly a heavy load. Though these costs are reduced to a rock bottom minimum, they take from the Western farmer nevertheless, a comparatively large share of his total earnings. Sometimes, in bad crop years, he tends to become discouraged; he may even—in isolated cases—abandon his farm. And when he does, another idle man must also be reported in the East.

But with more immigrants, more settlers, more farms, these overhead costs in the West are reduced. Ten people are paying the bill instead of five. A poor crop does not matter so much. Then costs grow lighter in the only way costs can be lightened. Their numbers increase. Then purchasing power expands. And there is more employment in the East.

The ban on immigration is a step towards greater unemployment—not less. This cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Premier Hughes

To Visit France

Will Present Australian Flag to City of Amiens.

London.—Premier William Hughes, has left London on his homeward journey. He will spend a week in France and will present an Australian flag to the city of Amiens and will also unveil a cross in honor of Australian soldiers who fell at Villers-Bretonne in 1918.

In conversing with Reuters correspondent, the Australian premier was unable to say whether he would return to the old country before long. Hon. Mr. Sastri, who is the Indian delegate to the Imperial Conference, left London on the same train with Mr. Hughes, going to Geneva to attend the meeting of the League of Nations.

Supply Of Feed Is Ample

Ottawa.—Telegraphic reports covering the livestock situation in the west have just been received by the Department of Agriculture from provincial deputy ministers and principal officials of the Agricultural Departments of three prairie provinces. All go to show that the supply of feed in the West is quite ample. The probabilities are, furthermore, that a good deal more hay will yet be made, particularly if dry weather is realized. Cutting is difficult as the sluices are rather full:

Tribute To Late Sir Sam Hughes

Parliamentarians Join in Sorrow Over Ex-Minister's Death

Ottawa.—Parliamentarians and public men from the Prince Minister down have joined in expressing their sorrow at the passing of Sir Sam Hughes, for years one of Canada's outstanding figures in political and military life. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the premier, paid the following tribute:

"A truly remarkable man has passed from us in the death of Sir Sam Hughes. His mind was alert and well informed. His heart was a dynamo of energy. Fear was something he knew nothing at all about; indeed, courage was his overmastering characteristic. It dominated his other faculties and directed his career.

That he has done much for Canada and for the Empire he loved, no one would dare to doubt. At a critical time, his equipment of talent and experience and his extraordinary personality contributed a vast service to this country for which all are grateful, and the memory of which will live as long as our history is read."

Indian Natives Riot

Seditious Agitators Cause Open Rebellion in Malabar District.

Bombay.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district, on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of the ignorant natives.

Their activities resulted in serious mass rioting, bloodshed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties. Railway lines have been cut. Post offices have been robbed, and mob law is almost supreme in several small towns.

One village, surrounded by a mob, has been repeatedly making despairing calls for help. Military reinforcements have arrived at Bangalore, capital of the district of Mysore.

A proclamation has been issued by the British officer commanding troops in the Malabar area. It refers to "open rebellion" prevailing in the district on North Honam, 38 miles southeast of Calicut. Several murders have occurred, the victims arising in military officer and a superintendent of police.

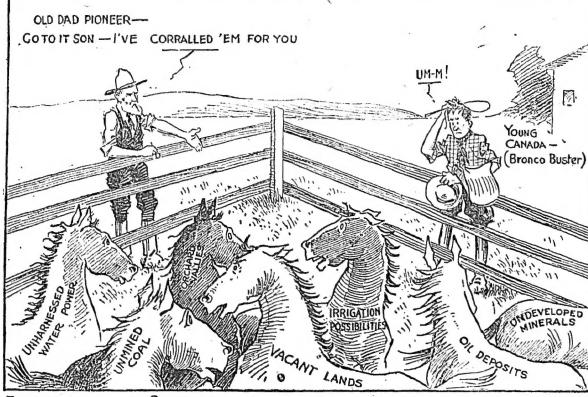

Greeks Are Hopeful

Athens.—Greek operations against the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor will be completed within a month at the present rate of progress, declared M. Thoeotakis, minister of war, in talking with newspaper men here. He asserted that Turkish forces opposing the Greeks might be estimated to number about 60,000.

Our Heritage of Opportunity

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O-G-E-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

The Hudson's Bay Company had with much energy and considerable expenditure placed two steamers on Lake Winnipeg and several boats on the river above the Grand Rapids, and this system was fairly successful for transportation of freight, it gradually replaced the Red River cart transport. Occasionally one of the river boats would reach Edmonton; twice I think in one season was the record of the Nor-West, which, by the way, was the most successful craft of them all, carrying two hundred tons on an exceedingly light draft of water.

American captains and mates from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers were employed exclusively, but our own natives speedily took to piloting and some of them became experts. The crews were all Indians, chiefly drawn from The Pas and Grand Rapids, but a few plain Indians from above Prince Albert would occasionally engage for a trip or two.

I was receiving and shipping freight in the summer of 1877 at Grand Rapids (Mr. Alex. Matheson, transport manager), and when loading the Nor-West on one occasion I noted the big fat Yankee mate who was standing on the deck at the gangway singing a rough chantey song to the Indians passing him heavily loaded; from one to two hundred pounds a man being the general load. Occasionally, to hurry matters, he would kick an Indian in the posterior while passing, and break forth into "Come along! Come along!" so that he was receiving and shipping freight on several occasions, and he was warned to guard his speech. We had just loaded the Nor-West with 160 tons of freight for Prince Albert, working day and night as usual at the depot, especially as the water was steadily falling in the Upper River, and away she went. On the evening of next day arrived a canoe with a letter from the captain stating he was fed up with a strike and all his crew on shore. The chief asked me to go up at once and try and settle the difference (as I had managed to do on other occasions), so within half an hour I was on my way up the river with an Indian and bark canoe, and a heavy paddle ahead of us. The scene of the strike was at Chemahawin, at the west end of Cedar Lake, and fortunately it being calm, we were able to make the long traverse safely and finally reached the steamer.

Captain — could hardly articulate for rage and every word was an oath. The poor beggar did not seem able to help it. I noted the men all sitting and smoking on the bank and grinning at the boss' discomfiture. I coaxed him into the cabin and told him the situation was a serious one and he was liable to lose his job if he did not cool down. Well, he was helpless, so asked what I would advise and I gave him this ultimatum. (To be continued)

Russia May Have

To Refuse Relief

Soviet Will Not Recognize Debts of Former Regime.

London.—Russia will be compelled to decline British and French famine aid, says the Pravda of Moscow, because these countries have agreed to assist only on condition that the Soviet Government recognize the debts of the former Russian regime amounting to several billion gold roubles.

The Pravda, which is quoted in a Reuters dispatch from Riga, declares the Soviet Government would prefer to purchase the necessary food itself at a cost of 100,000,000 roubles rather than pay even the interest on these debts amounting to about 500,000,000 roubles.

Congestion Of

Fruit In Okanagan

Season is Earlier and Prices are Lower.

Vernon, B.C.—With a lack of orders from the prairie trade, the early fruit harvest in the Okanagan has resulted in a congestion of fruit awaiting shipment. The season is at least two weeks earlier this year in the fruit belt, and the bulk of the orders are not coming yet, probably because housewives have not got down to preserving. Prices, however, are lower this season and great activity at shipping warehouses is looked for in a very short time.

First Car of Wheat Arrives at Calgary

Shipped From Vernon and Graded No. 2 Northern

Calgary.—The first carload of this season's spring wheat has arrived in Calgary. It was shipped by J. S. Galbraith and Sons, of Vernon, B.C., and consigned to Willard Cumming & Co. It graded No. 2 Northern, and was sold at the Winnipeg cash close price of $1.77½. It is stated that there are 100,000 bushels of wheat this year in the Vernon district. Most of this wheat will find its way to Europe by way of the Panama canal.

Winnipeg Old-Timer Dead

Winnipeg.—Robert Leckie, one of the thirty-six registered in the first Winnipeg directory, issued in 1876, is dead here, aged 70. He was born in Kincardine, Ont., and came to Winnipeg in 1874. He established a decorating business which he conducted continuously until his retirement in 1919.

The Most Tragic Fraud Ever Imposed Upon Any Nation

Millions are perishing from hunger and its offspring, pestilence, in Russia, and the sympathies of the world are aroused by the kinship of suffering Russia, which has endured the horrors of war, has been wrung by revolution, and has seen its Government displaced by a rule of incompetence and corruption, now faces starvation.

Russia, yesterday, was one of the greatest empires of the world; today, under Lenin and Trotsky, the bins are rotting and the storehouses are bare. The Bolshevik leaders are blaming the drought and the extreme heat, for Nature is often made the scapegoat of man's inexperience. The foundations of Russia's sufferings are not so readily shifted; for their basic cause lies in Bolshevism, the grossest and most tragic fraud that has ever been imposed upon any people.

It is no new thing to hear Lenin and his partners declaim about the woes of Russia, but this time Bolshevism cannot blame the blockade nor the machinations of Capitalistic England. It is, indeed, to the capitalistic countries that Russia today turns her suppliant gaze. The aid of the despised Cadets is invoked to placate the foreign nations whom she has warred against and slandered, and the machinery of the discredited Czarist rule is refurbished to gain sympathy—and dollars.

The serfs of the towns, the factory slaves, who were forced to walk and talk and eat by card, grew faint with lack of nourishment, and lost the moral fibre that in other days would have spurred them to resist their autocrats. But the peasant, the world over, knows but one tyranny—the tyranny of the soil. He might give the semblance of obedience when he heard the crack of the master's whip, but Lenin found these lessons learned in Berlin were as false as the masters who taught them.

Moscow has kept its heel upon the factory workers, but Lenin was forced some months ago to accept the alternative of the overthrow of his rule or the substantial modification of his confiscatory land measures, and he was world-wide enough to take the present time."

Lenin could absorb a thousand creeds of as many German philosophers, he might set up Marx as his God, but sooner or later he was bound to be brought up against the dead wall of truthtell "man will work only for a reward."

Today, when Bolshevism looks around at the empty barns, the full realization of this basic fact of all economics is brought home. The peasants of Russia have only sown for their own needs. They have rebelled against the Communists, that Lenin sought to foist upon them. The dictator's eleventh-hour repentence came too late.

Still the full tale of Bolshevik incompetence is not yet told. It is because Russia had a distorted creed forced upon her that her agony today is increased. Capitalistic countries finding themselves short of any staples through drought or from causes that have set up an unnatural condition, have been able by their own efforts and through their despised but classless system, to obtain needed supplies from sister nations. They have developed their system of international barter and trade and have established their machinery of distribution. Not so with Communism. It must depend upon its own resources. Communists are sometimes apt to forget that if their followers are to enjoy all the profits and prizes of years of prosperity they must be content to suffer the pangs and the losses of the lean days. If the Communists are to be a self-sustaining close corporation, they cannot fairly appeal to Capitalism when their system breaks down.

Lenin and his associates have today but one basis of appeal to the nations that they have fought and bled—the basis of human sympathy. They can come as suppliants asking for bread for their children and the poor duives whom Moscow has so shamefully deceived.

Their pleas, indeed, would come with better grace if they would don their clownish garb and the black masks of armed robbers and set to work to build up a new Russia, not on the threadbare tenets of a German-made philosophy, but on the foundations of common sense, experience, and humanity.—Montreal Star.

Cornwall's Ship Now Obsolete

Light Cruiser Was In Thickest Of Jutland Battle

H.M.S. Chester, one of the most famous ships of the British Navy, has arrived at Chatham from Sheerness, and has taken her place among the fleet of obsolete vessels in the river. She is to be sold. It was on the Chester that Jack Cornwall won his V.C. at the Battle of Jutland, for remaining at his post when the rest of the gun's crew had been killed. Pounded by German shells during this engagement, the Chester's decks became strewn with dead and wounded. With all but two of her guns out of action, the light cruiser remained in the thickest of the battle, and nearly one-third of her crew were either killed or wounded. After the battle she made her way into Hull in a terribly battered condition. The Chester is a comparatively new ship, having been commissioned in May, 1916, two weeks before the battle of Jutland. The suggestion has been made that she should be kept as a naval relic.

Mineral Production In B.C. Value Is Seven Per Cent. Greater Than In 1919.

Despite the decided fall in prices of metals, mineral production in British Columbia for the last year totalled $35,543,84, seven per cent. greater in value than the production of 1919, which was valued at $33,296,313, according to the annual report of the ministry of mines. The report contrasts this showing with the announcement of reductions in mineral output in other sections of the continent. Last year's figures bring total mineral production of this province for all years, since records have been kept, beginning with 1852, up to $700,192,978.

Some Colt
A pure-bred Percheron stallion of the Pennsylvania State College celebrated her first birthday by tipping the scales at 1,280 pounds which is some 500 or 600 pounds more than the weight of the ordinary yearling colt. An Agricultural Enemy Immense Losses Incurred to Farmers Through Weeds

Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture have estimated that weeds do $300,000,000 worth of damage to the agricultural interests per annum. In Canada also the yield of field crops is enormously reduced from this cause. It is hardly necessary to refer to a bulletin issued by the Seed Branch at Ottawa on "Weeds and Weed Seeds," that gives a list of nearly three hundred varieties known to this country, to realize that weeds lower the yield, deprecate the quality and value of crops, and add to the cost of production. They rob the soil of plant food and moisture; they crowd out more useful plants, being harder and generally more prolific, and they attract injurious insects and various fungi diseases. They are spread from district to district through transportation facilities by wind and water, through impure seed; the wind carries them long distances and animals distribute them through their excrement and from lodgments in their coats. Every province has adopted legislation looking for the suppression of noxious weeds, and this year an instruction train was operated through the three prairie provinces to give information to farmers regarding the weed problem. It might be mentioned the publication referred to gives a minute description of the majority of the weeds, with methods that should be followed for their eradication. It also states that no fewer than over 150 different species of weed seeds were found in samples of grain and seed submitted to the Ottawa Seed Branch for analysis in one year.

Wireless To Be Revolutionized

An important announcement may be looked for at any moment now from the Marconi Company, who are conducting experiments with a new wireless receiving apparatus that is expected to revolutionize the sending and receiving of wireless messages. The details of the invention are being jealously guarded owing to the fact that some of the countries that will desire to make use of the invention are outside the patents convention.

Saskatchewan Societies Show Big Increase in Membership and Business Handled

Saskatchewan co-operative marketing societies had an increase of $1,251,103 in the amount of business handled last year, compared with the turnover in 1919. The membership was increased by 646, making the total at the end of the year of 18,843. The paid-up capital invested increased from $362,251 to $466,009. Fifty-four societies marketing livestock shipped 912 carloads and received therefor $1,529,309. The value of supplies sold was $5,885,383. The total business handled amounted to 7,314,659.

U. S. Tariff Bill Will Hurt Alberta Cattle Industry

The cattle industry of Alberta is going to be hard hit by the new U.S. tariff bill. The West found its nearest and best market to the South and spent all its time during the past several years developing it. If the West would now finish and slaughter its cattle and seek the European markets it would serve its own best interest and teach a lesson to Uncle Sam at the same time that the Western Prairies are not a mere adjunct to the United States, but a busy agricultural and industrial center able to take care of itself.

Chinese Divide Profits

In China it is a custom widely observed for a shopkeeper to divide about ten per cent. of the profits among the employees at the New Year.

Amid the cheers of thousands of well-wishers lined along the Thames embankment, and the frantic tooting of ships' sirens, the aptly-named Quest, commanded by Sir Ernest Shackleton, started recently on the first leg of a 30,000-mile voyage of discovery in the uncharted seas of the frozen south.

Romance and science are bound up in this new adventure in the Polar regions. The journey will take Sir Ernest 30,000 miles in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and in the uncharted seas of the South Pole. The explorers are making for the Enderby Quadrant, the Antarctic, south of South Africa. Some 90 years have passed since a ship was in these waters.

The Quest will also search for the lost Pacific island of Tuanaki, mentioned in missionary history and native legend, but never seen; it will search also for secret seas, whose existence is believed but not proved.

The ship is barely 200 tons net. Its length is 111 feet, and depth 12 feet. Its sides are two feet thick of oak, pine and fir, and its bows are shot with steel. A remarkable feature of the expedition will be the vessel's lack of crew—a crew, that is, distinct from the scientific works. The staff of the expedition will manage the ship.

The British Admiralty has lent an oceanographical equipment, and the air ministry has lent two officers who will do kite and balloon work. Sounding platforms have been built on the vessel, which will enable the scientific staff to sound the ocean to a depth of six miles, half-a-mile more than ever has been done before.

Arrangements have been made so that the vessel can steam for 10,000 miles without recoupling. A seaphone is housed on a special deck, and two moving picture men are among the staff. The Quest will have on board stores for two years.

Good Fishing In Northern Lakes

Fishermen at Lesser Slave Lake and Lac La Biche Are Doing Well

Up to August 13th 115,000 pounds of fish of all descriptions had been taken from the waters of Lac La Biche. Of this amount 80,000 pounds represented the white fish catch, the balance being pickerel, pike, and other varieties of the coarser fish. Fishing in La Biche commenced on July 15th, and reports from the fishermen show that they consider this year's operations will double the output of last year. The quality of the fish is excellent, and everyone in the Lac La Biche fishing industry is wearing a broad smile. Over 25 fishermen, holding commercial licenses, are employed in removing the finny inhabitants from the depths.

Fish are plentiful on the Lesser Slave also, and up to August 14th over fifteen cars left the lake ports for outside points. Taken all round, the fishing is better this year, and in addition to the whitish a very heavy catch of pickerel is reported up to the end of last week, from the east end of the lake.

Last year the total pickerel catch for the entire season amounted to 56,000 pounds, but in the present year the catch has already totalled 46,000 pounds and there is still a clear month and a half of fishing. The catch in the eastern end of the lake is the best for many years, but the western section is apparently devoid of fish. More pickerel than usual have been caught.

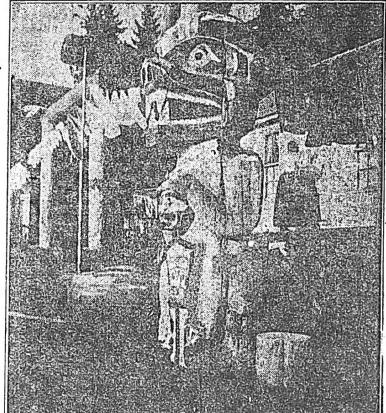

Well over 150 fishermen are employed on the Lesser Slave in commercial fishing, the catch up to August 13th being approximately, 350,000 pounds of all varieties, 300,000 pounds of fish from the Lesser Slave is being shipped out in excellent condition the majority of the product finding a market in Chicago, where Alberta's whitefish is exceedingly popular.—Edmonton Bulletin.

British Columbia Efforts.
The movement of shingles and copper from British Columbia to the Atlantic ports via the Panama Canal is continuing. Every week about ten million shingles are shipped, and a thousand tons of copper go monthly. Recently paper and pulp has been added to the list.

The Totems At Alert Bay

Bear Totem Pole,

Tradition has been very busy with the Thunder-Bird. Something about it makes it "the king of the Totems."

The story of the Thunder-Bird that lets most light on the Indian character of other days is a gruesome tale of treachery on the part of the Alerts toward their ancient foe the tribe of the Nimpkish.

The Nimpkish folk were invited to a "Potlatch" and burying-the-hatchet, they came. Only to be murdered one at a time as they wriggled through the Thunder Bird's beak to the feast-hall. The entrance was so narrow and the blow from within so swift and unexpected that not even a sound escaped to warn the men waiting outside. Thus, tradition says, "Was done to death every Nimpkish who came to the feast."

Next in importance to the Thunder Bird comes the Bear, frankened and sporty, carrying between powerful paws the "copper" symbol of Chieftaincy among the Indians to this day.

The chief whom the Bear symbol was evidently a hunter—presumably of bears. And so cleverly did he hunt and study Bruin's habits that in time he himself came to have something of the nature of the animal he hunted. The whole make-up of "The Bear" bespeaks geniality here in this part of our Canada.

Pit Silos Better Than Older Type

Walls Lined With Ten Inch Plaster Resists Frost.

Pit silos for Saskatchewan were advocated to the Regina Board of Trade by P. G. Holden, of the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company. It was emphasized by the speaker that the western farmer must not depend entirely on the wheat crop as a source of livelihood, and that they must have other means of production if the wheat crop fails. In speaking of silos, Mr. Holden stated that the pit silo outclassed the older type. They are made by digging out pits and lining the walls with a ten inch plaster. Pit may be dug to any depth, and the cost of the lining would not exceed $30, which was a saving when compared with the $300 of the standing silo. Silage thus stored will not freeze, and wind and lightning cannot cause damage to the pit silo.

Taber Irrigation Project

System Expected to Pay for Itself in One Year

Paying for an irrigation system in one year is the unique experience of the Taber project, comprising 17,000 acres, just east of the irrigated area operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It cost sixteen dollars an acre to build the ditches and laterals and conservative estimates of the average yield on the 13,000 acres under crop are twenty bushels to the acre, as against eight bushels on the dry land adjoining. This is the first year that the Taber project has been in operation.

B.C. Salmon for Europe

One of the largest single lots of salmon to leave Vancouver on shipboard left recently on board the Royal Mail Steam Packet steamer "Somersetshire." The salmon was consigned to France, United Kingdom, Belgium and other continental countries and consisted of 65,000 cases or between 2,500 and 3,000 tons.

The sea has a great effect on temperature; in hot climates it reduces the heat and in cold climates it mitigates the cold.

Besides the parrot there are more than twenty different kinds of birds that talk.

"None, perhaps," still smiled Mr. Smith good-humoredly.

"Why don't you let them alone, then? What do you expect to find?"

"Well, like me, Mr. Smith was plainly nonplussed.

"Well, I can tell you it's a silly business, whatever you find." If you find your grandfather's a bigger man than you are, you'll be proud of it, but you might just as well say 'taints' cause you ain't bigger yourself! On the other hand, if you find he isn't as big as you are, you'll be ashamed of that, when you ought to be proud of it—cause you've gone him one better. But you know, son, your kind I've seen before. But you can't do any work real?"

"He is doing real, real work, now, father," interposed Miss Maggie quickly. "He's having a woeful time. If you'd only let him know, and show him how to pass time."

A real terror came into Mr. Smith's eyes, but Mr. Duff was already on his feet.

"Well, I shant," he observed tartly. "I'm a fool, if he is. I'm going out to the porch where I can get some air."

"There's work as long as you like, Mr. Smith. I knew you'd rather work by yourself," nodded Miss Maggie, moving the piles of papers near him.

"But, good Heavens, how do you stand—" exploded Mr. Smith before he realized that this time he had really said the words aloud. He blushed red hot.

Miss Maggie, too, colored. Then abruptly, she laughed.

"After all, it doesn't matter. Why shouldn't I be frank with you? You couldn't help seeing—how things were of course, I mean, ergo, for argument, that you were a stranger. Everybody in Hillerton understands. You see, father is nervous, and not at all well. We have to humor him."

"But do you mean that you always leave him? You don't want him to want, in order to prove—that is?" Mr. Smith, finding himself in very deep water, blushed again painfully.

Miss Maggie met his dismayed gaze with cheerful candor.

"Tell me what I don't want in order to get him to do what I do want him to? Yes, yes. But I don't mind; really I don't. I used to do it now. And when you know how does it matter?" After all, where is the difference?" That was the world we say. "Please do, when you want a thing, while to him we have to say, 'Please, don't.' That's all. You see, it's really very simple—when you know how."

"Squeak! Great Scott!" muttered Mr. Smith. He wanted to say more, but Miss Maggie, with a smiling nod, turned away, so he went back to his work.

Benny, wandering in from the kitchen with both hands full of cookies, plumped himself down on the cushioned window-seat, and drew a sigh of content.

"Say, Aunt Maggie."

"Yes, dear."

"Can I come ter live with you?"

"Certainly not!" The blithe voice and pleasant smile took all the sting from the prompt refusal. "What would father and mother do?"

"Oh, they wouldn't mind."

"Benny?"

"They wouldn't. Maybe pa would—a little, but Bass and ma wouldn't. And I'd like it."

"Nonsense, Benny!" Miss Maggie crossed to a stand and picked up a small box. "Here's a new picture, son. If you like it, it's yours."

Benny shifted his now depleted stock of cookies to one hand, dropped to his knees on the floor, and dumped the contents of the box upon the seat beside him.

"They won't let me eat cookies any more at home—in the house, I mean. Too many crumbs."

"But you know you have to pick up your crumbs here, dear."

"Weep, weep, don't mind after I've had the pleasure of first. But they won't let me drop 'em ter begin with, there, nor take any of the boys into the house. Honest, Aunt Maggie, there ain't anything a fellin' can do, seem so, to ye live on the West Side," he persisted solemnly.

Mr. Smith, coming dates at the table, was conscious of a slightly apprehensive glance in his direction from Miss Maggie's eyes, as she murmured:—

"I'm not forgettin' your puzzle, Benny. You've put only five pieces together."

"I can't do puzzles there, either."

Benny's voice was still mournful. "All in more reason, then, why you should like to live here. See, where does this dog's head go?"

Lestlessly Benny took off the bit of pieced wood in his fingers and began to fit it into the pattern before him.

"I used ter do 'em an' leave 'em," Mr. Smith says I can't now. Callers might come and find 'em, an' what would they say—on the West Side?"

Sid! An' that's the way it is with everything. Ma'n' Bess are always doin' things, or not doin' 'em, for those callers. An' I don't see why. They never come—not new ones.

"You know, I don't see why when they get accustomed to you. You haven't found where the dog's head goes yet."

"Pa says he don't want ter get acquainted. He'd rather have the old friends, what don't mind baked beans an' shirt-sleeves, an' don't yet own a dog. Pa's got a lot of heart, though they do of yer pocketbook. But ma wants a hired girl. An' say, we have ter wash our hands every morn now—on the table, I mean—those little glass wash bowls. Ma washes down a wash rag, some an' she usin' 'em mornin' day, so ter get used to 'em. She says everybody that is anybody has 'em nowadays. Bess thinks they're great, but I don't like 'em a mite."

"It doesn't matter, Benny. It does if it's mornin'—it doesn't really matter, does it, if you have to use the little dishes? Come, you're not half doing the puzzle."

"I know it," Benny shifted his position and picked up a three-cornered bit of wood carrying the print of a dog's paw. "But I was just thinkin'—about the West Side. Why even pa—he's different. He isn't there hardly. He's got a new job, startin'."

"What?" Miss Maggie turned from the puzzle with a start.

"Oh, just for evenin'. It's keepin' books for a man. La brings in quite a lot extra, ma says she wouldn't do it, but she hasn't got no regular job, when ma broke. She's savin' up for a chafin' dish. What's a chafin' dish?

"Do you know? You eat out of it, some way—I mean it cooks things ter eat; an' Bess wants one. Gus' Pennock's got one. All the men in the office have 'em, so, on the West Side. Ma has dinners nights now, instead of noons. She says the Pennocks do, an' everybody does who is anybody. But I don't like it. Pa doesn't eat, an' all the time he can't get home in time for it, anyhow, on account of gettin' back to his new job, ye know—an'—"

"Oh, I've found where the dog's head goes," cried Miss Maggie. There was a hint of desperation in her voice.

"I have no place to go, for you, myself. If you don't look out, Benny, I don't believe you can do it, anyhow."

"I can, too. You just see if I can't!" retorted Benny, with sudden spirit.

"Never a puzzle I never solved."

Mr. Smith, bending assiduously over his work at the table, heard Miss Maggie's sigh of relief—and echoed it, from sympathy.

CHAPTER VII Poor Maggie and Some Others

It was half an hour later, when Mr. Smith and Benny were walking across the common together, that Benny asked:

"Aunt Maggie, ter be put in your book, Mr. Smith?"

"Why—er—yes; her name will be entered as the daughter of the man who married the Widow Blaisdell, probably."

"Nope," I was only thinkin'—I hoped she was. Aunt Maggie didn't have nothin' much, yer know, except her father an' housework—housework either for him or some of us. An' I guess she's had quite a lot of things to worry about, too. But they had the dog's head first. But they won't let me drop 'em ter begin with, there, nor take any of the boys into the house. Honest, Aunt Maggie, there ain't anything a fellin' can do, seem so, to ye live on the West Side," he persisted solemnly.

Mr. Smith, coming dates at the table, was conscious of a slightly apprehensive glance in his direction from Miss Maggie's eyes, as she murmured:—

"I'm not forgettin' your puzzle, Benny. You've put only five pieces together."

Benny's voice was still mournful.

"All in more reason, then, why you should like to live here. See, where does this dog's head go?"

Lestlessly Benny took off the bit of pieced wood in his fingers and began to fit it into the pattern before him.

"I used ter do 'em an' leave 'em," Mr. Smith says I can't now. Callers might come and find 'em, an' what would they say—on the West Side?"

for Aunt Maggie!" laughed Mr. Smith suddenly.

"Aunt Maggie? Oh, you don't know Aunt Maggie, yet. She's always tryin' ter make people think things don't matter. You'll see!" crowed Benny.

A moment later he had turned down his own street, and Mr. Smith was left to go on alone.

Very often in the days that followed Mr. Smith thought of his speech to Benny, and his words were repeated to him as being a good deal of Miss Maggie, and it seemed indeed, to him that half the town was coming to her to learn that something "different" was possible through very great merit.

It was to her that he was drawn, to her that she could give him a chance, and the disease ends quickly. Colds and the throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhozeen is inhaled—smells and continues cease at once because irritation is removed.

Bronchitis, irritation and weakness in the throat soon disappear.

Live Stock Industry

Want Action Taken to Secure Market in U.S.

C. W. Peterson, western editor and rancher, suggests the formation of a Canadian pool consisting of government representatives, bankers, breeders, and capitalists to form an effective line of defence in view of the present condition of the live stock industry in Western Canada. He urged that immediate diplomatic negotiations be opened with the United States to procure for Canada free entry for animals and animal products, pleading that even an unlimited overseas market could not be compared with free access to the Chicago market. He believed that if the situation were placed before the Canadian public and they were appealed to there would be no trouble in subscribing $100,000,000 for the pool.

City Girl Makes a Success of Farming in Western Canada

Another name added to the list of women who are successfully operating farms in Western Canada is that of May V. Hazlett, an English girl who, for four years has lived alone on a homestead in the Touchwood Hills, and made it pay. Her brother, who homesteaded the land, was killed in the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge, and Miss Hazlett, who was working as a stenographer, and tired of the eternal pounding, determined to go contrary to the advice to sell the farm and though she had never lived in the country, decided to operate it herself. Success has attended her efforts and she now owns several head of cattle, a fine bunch of cattle, and has more than one hundred acres under cultivation. She is again having the order of things as having built a Western home she is returning to England to marry her fiance and bring him out to the Saskatchewan farm. She is an ardent advocate of homesteads for women.

Where Winbreaks Are Necessary

Gardens on Prairies Must Be Protected by Hedges

That the time will come when the prairies will be hedged and dotted with gardens and blooming flowers, of ripening fruits and of delicious vegetables, was the prediction made recently by W. Macoun, director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, who has almost completed a tour of inspection of the Dominion's experimental farms. Mr. Macoun is a son of Professor John Macoun, of Ottawa, the famous naturalist and explorer, who died last year in his ninetieth year.

Mr. Macoun said that he had seen on the prairies some of the finest gardens that could possibly be seen anywhere in Canada. But before the prairies can have gardens they must have hedges for windbreaks, Mr. Macoun added. "Set your hedges, and you may look for your garden," he said. "The hedges are coming." The Dominion experimental farms have more, far more, than paid for them, said Mr. Macoun, and the wide distribution which has been given to the caragana hedge, which the Department at Ottawa introduced from Russia. It is indispensable to the small garden on the prairies. I attribute a great deal of the splendid results achieved in western gardening to the influence exerted by the experimental stations," Mr. Macoun declared.

Mr. Macoun said the present aim of the Department of Agriculture is to get earlier varieties of fruits and vegetables, and referred more particularly to the special need for earlier varieties of all kinds on the windswept prairies.

Postage Meter Machine Does Away With Necessity of Sticking on Stamps

New York has been introduced to the postage meter machine—a machine which makes every man his own stamp printer and does away with the necessity of sticking on stamps.

The National City Bank has the first one exhibited there.

The machine, recently approved by the post office department, operates on a principle similar to that of the government's automatic cancelling machines. As the letters are run through it, a square about the size of a stamp is printed, in which appear the words: "U. S. Postage—Paid 2 Cents."

The machine is equipped with a register which can be set only by post office authorities. When the register shows the user has stamped as many letters as he paid for, the machine stops and has to be taken to the post office to be reset.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor always comes in time. But it is not always possible to see a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is especially effective in easing indigestion, pain and all kinds of cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a headache.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat or drink, had no appetite. The worst symptom was dragging down pains, so bad I sometimes thought I was going crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in the condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians and specialists. I found one of your brochures and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results. It is the only thing that keeps me out of work and an active new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman ease them as you did mine, Mrs. J. P. PEASEY, 387 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

If you are one of these women who suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Peasey did, but profit by her experience and are restored to health.

Pain In The Loins Driven Out Quickly

That dragging, wearying sort of pain makes life a misery to many people. This pain is due to a passive inflammation of the adjacent tissue. Because it drops right into the more powerful because five times stronger, more penetrating because it strikes through soft tissue, more healing to pain, Nervilin Liniment should be always on hand. Sold everywhere in large 35 cent bottles.

Stake Oil Claims On Arctic Circle

Oil Claims Extend from Fort Norman to the Rink of the Arctic

Oil claims have been staked along the Mackenzie River right up to the Arctic Circle. The staking extends from a point several miles south of Fort Norman, which is 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, to another point within some fifty miles of Good Hope, a post just sixteen miles south of the Arctic Circle. The total distance of the oil staking along the Mackenzie River in this territory is now approximately 150 miles though not continued over this entire length.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus, a slight of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, and a character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with local applications, but the real cure comes by eating nutritious foods and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills are new, rich blood and thus as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from the most distressing troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

Write to Dr. Williams' Pink Pill Company, 88 Dr. Williams' Pink Pill Company, or mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Man's Amazing Endurance

Capacity of The Human Animal to Bear Privation.

If there is one thing which has been made clear to us in the last six years it is that communities and individuals have a capacity for endurance far exceeding all rational estimates in the previous years, says the Westminster Gazette. The enemy endures for a diet which includes only raw vegetables, and a diet which is manifestly bankrupt carries on with all the appearance of solvency and even prosperity for an apparently unlimited time; the strike which ought to have ended in complete exhaustion at the end of a month continues unabated after two months, and the community which ought to have been strangled by it is alive and cheerful and comparatively indifferent.

Half a Billion Dollar Crop

The Financial Times, in its latest survey of Western Canadian crop conditions, states that the wheat yield this year should be the most valuable the West has ever produced, worth at least half a billion dollars.

Any child, or infant, or young person of either sex, infested with worms, may take this preparation without a qualm of the stomach, and will find in it a sure relief and a full protection from these destructive pests, which are responsible for sickness and great suffering to legions of little ones.

American Capital Interested

Paul O'Leary, representing a party of Central American capitalists, was in Calgary recently to investigate the possibilities of wheat growing on a large scale in the Canadian West. It is intended to operate thirty thousand acres.

Lime In Agriculture

The use of lime in proper quantity, in proper quality, and at the proper time will prove beneficial to most soils. Used otherwise, its effects are the reverse. That there may be no lack of knowledge on the subject, there has been issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa a revised edition of a bulletin entitled "Lime in Agriculture," in which the Dominion Chemist, Dr. F. T. Shutt, has dealt comprehensively with the subject. From this bulletin it is learned that there are several classes of lime, such as quick lime, burnt lime, caustic lime, stone lime, etc., also that limestone of excellent quality is to be found in many parts of Canada, especially in the East and at some points in British Columbia. Some exists in Manitoba in the vicinity of lakes Winnipeg and Winnipegosis. Otherwise there is none available on the prairies. What is known as lime kiln refuse is sometimes sold as "Agricultural Lime," but the advice is tendered that purchases should be made only on analysis as to the percentages of quicklime, carbonate of lime, etc., present. The chief objects of the application of lime, or carbonate of lime, are the neutralization of sourness and the improvement of the mechanical condition of soils. The characteristic of the soils that should be treated are pointed out and the influence of lime explained. The comparative values of the different kinds are set forth as well as the methods of application. Attention is given to the use and misuse of lime and results from detailed experiments.

Parents are careful to see that their children go to school every day, whether the children like it or not. On the other hand, the child is often left to please himself, as to whether he shall go to Sunday School. The Great Teacher said "Seek first the Kingdom of God." Now father, are you helping your boy to do this. Do you ever talk with your boy about God and His program? Do you study the scriptures with him? If not, will you see that he goes to Sunday School. Gladstone and Roosevelt were great Sunday School boys and Bible students always.
